To whom it may concern,

I want to request that you please do not move forward with the guidance to the administration on cost-benefit analysis (the OMB Draft Guidelines for the Conduct of Regulatory Analysis and the Format of Accounting Statements).

As a matter of principle, one life should not be valued more than another.

I am extremely concerned that this analysis could water down anti-pollution regulations and harm the health of senior citizens--of which I am one. I don't want to be valued less than my co-citizens and be subjected to increased amounts of pollutants and contaminants just because the administration has determined that I'm not worth as much as other segments of the population.

Thank you,
Stanley L. Rose
