Food and Nutrition Service funds were used to provide benefits to improve the nutritional level and health of nutritionally at-risk, low-income pregnant, breastfeeding and postpartum women, infants, and children up to their fifth birthday.

Agricultural Research Service (ARS) salaries and expenses funds were used to increase research on rapid detection techniques and for physical and operational security needs. Buildings and Facilities funds will be used for planning and construction in Ames, Iowa.

Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service (APHIS) obligated funds to enhance pest detection surveys in cooperation with the states; initiate classical swine fever (CSF) testing at National Veterinary Science Laboratory; allocate Bovine Spongiform Encephalopathy (aka: Mad Cow Disease) funds to the Eastern and Western regions for sample collections; and for physical and operational security upgrades at various APHIS laboratory facilities.

Food Safety and Inspection Service (FSIS) funds were used to improve facility security, increase education and training for inspectors regarding terrorist threats, increase monitoring and surveillance, expand laboratory capabilities, and enhance technical assistance to States and local entities.

Of the funds appropriated to the Office of the Secretary, $19.6 million has been obligated by the Cooperative State Research, Education and Extension Service for grants to support the university-based Rapid Detection and Response Network and to establish a regional diagnostic lab redundancy and approximately $8.7 million has been obligated by Departmental Administration for physical/operational security needs.

* Previously the FSIS erroneously reported obligations of 2,336 K, when actual obligations to date are 870 K.

The Department of Education expects to obligate $5 million of its $10 million in emergency funds for the New York City schools. Education has a preliminary plan from New York on how these funds will be used, but various details still need to be worked out. Completing this process should take only a few more weeks.

The Department has no specific plans to obligate the remaining $5 million in emergency funds. Congress instructed the Department not to spend all of its emergency funds on September 11th response, but instead use a portion of the funds for other jurisdictions and emergencies.

The funds were used for activities directly related to the terrorist attacks on the United States on September 11, 2001. Funding provided temporary jobs in disaster recovery, restored capacity to process unemployment insurance claims lost in terrorist attack, and provided on-site safety and health monitoring at the attack sites.

<sup>1</sup> As of June 30, 2002, DOL had not obligated these funds because New York State had not submitted the required Statement of Work (SOW) and spending plan. However, on July 2, 2002, DOL reported that New York State had completed the SOW and plan, which awaited final approval by the Governors Office. However, as of July 31, 2002, the Governor's Office still had not approved the SOW and plan. Upon receiving New York's SOW and plan, DOL will expedite its review of them before structuring the grant agreement and then obligating the funds.

These funds were used for disaster recovery activities and assistance to:

- o Pay for overtime, Sunday/Holiday Pay, night differential and travel costs incurred for response and investigative efforts at the New York, Pennsylvania and Pentagon disaster sites; the Northern Border; high-risk ports (including an expanded/heightened security presence at airports and land borders); the Anti-Terrorism Tip Line in Atlanta; the Martinsburg Computing Center (MCC) (including, among other things, overtime to effect software reprogramming to suspend delinquent tax notices in impacted areas); enhanced security activities at the MCC by the West Virginia State Police; manual suppression of tax notices at several accounts management facilities; and other related investigative and law enforcement efforts.
- o Procure ammunition, radio and investigative equipment, special agent automobiles, a truck, office supplies, contracts for automation services, laptop computers, cabling for voice/data equipment, furniture, equipment, telephones and cellular telephones, all of which were lost or destroyed at the World Trade Center complex.
- o Procure engineering and security requirements to prepare temporary WTC replacement space for occupancy.
- o Obtain vehicle repairs and maintenance.
- o Procure consulting services for the Air Transportation Stabilization Board.
- o Print additional special disaster notices to grant tax relief and to extend filing deadlines.
- o Provide for air support for counter-terrorism and air space security.
- o Provide grief counseling to IRS employees and their family members as a direct result of the events of September 11th.
- o Secure additional inspectional support in the state of Michigan from the National Guard. (Note: the funding for the nationwide National Guard Support Agreement, which supported the additional inspections, is fully obligated)
- o Construct space and procure video teleconferencing, equipment and furniture for the Terrorist Asset Tracking Center.
- o Provide additional air support related to counterterrorism and airspace security.

The funds were used for vulnerability assessments of critical Corps facilities and guards and additional physical barriers at these facilities. The funds obligated for New York were for initial disaster response as the Corps' district office was located in the vicinity of the attack. The funds obligated for Virginia were for additional security at a Corps office there (not for the Pentagon).

Disaster Relief funds were used for disaster response and recovery activities and assistance, including inspections, support for urban search and rescue teams, and debris removal. Funds from the Emergency Management Planning and Assistance appropriation were used to support urban search and rescue teams at the Winter Olympics in Salt Lake City, Utah. Salaries and Expenses funds supported the Office of National Preparedness.

* FEMA transferred $760 million in Emergency Response Funds (originally allocated from the Emergency Response Fund (ERF), pursuant to P.L. 107-38) to the Transportation Security Administration (TSA) on May 23rd. The above numbers reflect this transfer. On July 1st, FEMA transferred an additional $270 million from the ERF to TSA. The July transfer, which will be reflected in FEMA's July obligations report, depletes FEMA's unobligated funds from the ERF funds. FEMA's remaining unobligated funds are from the FY 2002 Emergency Supplemental Appropriations Act (P.L. 107-117).

* - Budget Authority (from "15-day wait" funds) includes $100 million for an initial purchase of irradiation equipment to sanitize the mail and $75 million for the costs of personnel protection equipment (gloves, masks, barrier creams, etc.), first response/environmental testing kits and services, site clean-up and medical goods and services, and for public education material.

** - This Budget Authority (from the FY 2002 Emergency Supplemental Appropriations Act) is provided to protect postal employees and postal customers from exposure to biohazardous material, sanitize and screen the mail, and replace or repair Postal Service facilities destroyed or damaged in New York City as a result of the September 11, 2001, terrorist attacks. USPS is permitted to obligate resources to "sanitize and screen the mail" only after it meets the congressional mandate to prepare an overall emergency preparedness plan and an expenditure plan for these resources.
